HALL OF FAME FOR AGRICULTURE

August 11, 1958
[H. Con. Res. 295]

Whereas many of our bravest men and most valiant soldiers were of an agricultural background; and

Whereas the Founding Fathers of this Republic and many of its most eminent leaders were farmers; and

Whereas agriculture has played a dominant role in the rise of our country to greatness; and

Whereas there now exist halls of fame recognizing the glorious past for the baseball player, the cowboy, and others; and

Whereas the ox yoke, the bull-tongue plow, the hand-forged iron kettle, and the sod house represent the evolution of agricultural technology in this country and the difficulties which a determined people faced and successfully overcame in improving their way of life; and

Whereas our American heritage should be preserved and tribute should be paid to the great men and women who over the years have helped to make American agriculture the most productive in the world: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That it is the sense of the Congress that there be established and maintained, as a memorial to the important role played by agriculture in the development of our Nation, a Hall of Fame for Agriculture, wherein there will be collected and preserved for posterity relics, artifacts, and other evidence and data relating to agriculture and the great contributions it has made and continues to make in the rise to greatness of our country; and the Congress does hereby commend, encourage, and sanction the efforts to establish such a hall of fame.

Hall of Fame for Agriculture.
